Message from the CEO

Welcome to our special Sydney Craft Week Festival edition!

We've been putting the finishing touches to the exhibitions and events here at ADC and checking out all the 'playful' festival inspiration on offer across Sydney starting on 11 October. This is the third iteration of this annual festival and it keeps getting better and better. A huge thank you to all our festival partners including the incredibly supportive City of Sydney, Skein Sisters and ClassBento.

Collaboration is the magic ingredient that makes all of the projects we produce so special. Aside from the festival, which wouldn't happen without the collaborative craft community, this month reveals our collaborations with over 100 artists, the Jewellery and Metalsmiths Group of NSW, the Australian Tapestry Workshop and the Korean Cultural Centre. Thank you to everyone involved for working with us on these fantastic projects.

I'm delighted to announce that Bridget Kennedy joins the ADC Board. Many of you will be aware that Bridget is an exceptionally talented contemporary jeweller and we are grateful that she is able to volunteer a little of her time to help us over the next three years.

Thank you to everyone who has completed our annual survey. We appreciate your feedback. If you haven't already you can do so here.

See you on Saturday 19 October for the Sydney Craft Week ADC Makers Market under the big marquee outside the Centre in Palmer Street .

CEO and Artistic Director

Article: Contemporary Jewellery in Focus

Contemporary jewellery has evolved as an artform, often exploring materiality and form, and the relationship of objects to the body. For many contemporary jewellers, the term “wearable art” feels more relevant to their practice, while others find their work very much connected to the jeweller’s bench and others, again, are looking at their work in relation to the body, rather than necessarily worn on it.
